

For Further Reading:

- Inspiring Reading Success: Interest and Motivation in an Age of High-stakes Testing (2008) by Rosalie Fink and Jay Samuels
- Gambrell, L. (2015). Getting students hooked on the reading habit. The Reading Teacher. 69(3), 259-263.
- ILA Book Reviews: <https://www.literacyworldwide.org/blog/children's-ya-literature/book-reviews>
- School Library Journal Reviews: <http://www.slj.com/category/reviews/best-of/>
- Horn Book Reviews: <http://www.hbook.com/category/choosing-books/recommended-books/>

Reflection: Which strategy would you like to implement with your students? How will you implement this strategy?

Name:

GIVE ONE, GET ONE Move On

Think of a book that has been a hit with your students—one that is incredibly interesting, that captures their curiosity and excites them to read on. Write it down in Box 1. Pass the sheet to another participant to read what has already been written, and this person will add an idea in Box 2. Don't repeat a book that's already listed. Continue giving ideas for interesting books until all the boxes are filled with ideas. Be sure that the sheet returns to the original owner.

1.	2.	3.
4.	5.	6.
7.	8.	9.

CURIOSITY CATCHER

One thing that looks interesting about your book:

One thing that looks interesting about your partner's book: